3-Man Staff Recommended By Adm. Nimitz

Missile-Satellite Committee Urged To Reduce Size

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chester W. Nimitz, former top Navy officer, proposed today that the Joint Chiefs of Staff be reduced to three members.

He told the Senate missile-satellite inquiry that the post of chairman of the top military advisers could be rotated among heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force.

"This would remove one layer in this pyramid of the chain of command," Nimitz said.

The white-haired Nimitz recalled that at one time during World War II, when he was a top commander in the Pacific, he favored a "single chief of staff."

That was when he "had a sense of frustration" waiting for decisions from Washington, he explained. But he said hindsight and experience have convinced him "I was wrong and I am now opposed to a single chief of staff."

AFTER WORLD War II, Admiral Nimitz served as chief of naval operations for two years and then retired.

The Senate preparedness subcommittee called him and Gen. Carl Spaatz, former Air Force chief of staff, for public testimony in its search for ways to streamline the Defense Department and speed missile-satellite programs.

The House Armed Services Committee pursued a parallel inquiry, calling two witnesses for closed testimony—Secretary of the Army Brucker and Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, acting Army chief of staff.

These hearings provided the backdrop for action by the House Appropriations Committee on President Eisenhower's $1.2 billion emergency program to speed up missile work and spread out bases of the Strategic Air Command to make the nation's long-range bombers less vulnerable.

A LONG PARADE of industrial and other witnesses have told the Senate subcommittee, headed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), that this country is falling behind Russia in intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBM) and other weapons of the future. But the men in uniform, while partially agreeing, contend also that U. S. capabilities should not be underrated.

Military witnesses told the House Appropriations Committee, in testimony taken last week but made public Monday, that the United States could sustain a surprise attack by the Soviet Union and still recover sufficiently to annihilate Russia.

The testimony was highlighted by the assertion of Adm. Arleigh Burke, present chief of naval operations, that "the advent of missiles does not change our ability to destroy Russia."

He said the U. S. capability of destroying Russia, if the free world is attacked, "is not decreasing."

"What has happened," he said, "is that they now, for the first time, have the prospect of a capability to destroy us quickly." He said that in the field of missiles, "I think that the United States is ahead of Russia."

Burke spent most of Monday at a secret session of the Senate subcommittee.

Heavy East-Bound Blizzard Paralyzes Kansas, Missouri

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The season's worst snowstorm partially paralyzed large sections of Missouri and Kansas today.

Depths in the border areas of the two states ranged from 6 to 14 inches. Winds whipped up drifts that blocked major highways and made side roads and many city streets impassable.

In most of the storm area, the temperature was in the low 20s. However, to the west, the dry cold wave dropped the mercury to 29 below zero at Fraser, Colo.

At the leading edge of the storm rains spread eastward across the Appalachians to the Atlantic. Rains in the forefront of the Central Plains storm spread eastward through the Ohio Valley.

All of Ohio's major highways are open to traffic, but are snow covered and slippery in an area bounded by Elyria, Mansfield, Canton, Ravenna, Chardon, Cleveland, and Port Clinton, the state's highway department reported today.

City School Board Covers Variety of Topics

Public Kindergartens Next Year? Salary Study May Provide Answer

An agreement that the kindergarten program will be reinstated in the Washington C. H. school system if—and as soon as—finances permit was reached at the regular meeting of the city Board of Education Monday night.

Superintendent W. A. Smith outlined plans for kindergarten classes at four of six elementary schools next year if possible. The board gave conditional approval to the employment of four teachers who would conduct morning and afternoon classes at Eastside, Belle-Aire, Cherry Hill and Rose Avenue schools.

There will not be space for kindergarten classes at Sunnyside and Central, although prospective pupils in the areas (those who will be 5 years old before Sept. 30) would be transported to the other buildings if the program can be financed.

A final decision on the matter, which might mean that kindergartens could be established next September, will be withheld pending the findings of a Salary Study Committee which will hold its first meeting with the superintendent Tuesday night.

MEMBERS of the committee are Board Members Milbourne Zlee and Robert Terhune; Hugh Rea and Miss Marjorie Evans, representing the City Teachers Ass'n; George Inskeep, PTA Council president, who was appointed to the committee by the board, and Mrs. Robert Lytton, lay representative chosen by the Teachers Ass'n. Smith will serve as chairman.

Following the recommendation of the superintendent, the board approved a plan to employ a full-time principal for the new 15-classroom Eastside building and half-time principals (who would spend the rest of their time teaching) for all other elementary buildings.

The half-time principal plan would require the employment of two and a half additional teachers who would teach half-time in three schools.

The board also recommended employment of a remedial reading teacher to replace Mrs. John Trace after Superintendent Smith explained the excellent results gained through the program, and agreed that a second remedial reading teacher should be hired—either from the outside or from the present staff. Members agreed that a full-time student counselor is needed for the high school (only the services of a part-time counselor are now available) and that additional classroom teachers will be required for the new buildings (Eastside, Belle-Aire and two-room additions at Cherry Hill and Rose Avenue).

All of these personnel matters will be included in the salary study. THE BOARD approved a con-

Last 11 Days Of '57 Hike Highway Toll

COLUMBUS (AP)—An 11-day period of slaughter at the close of 1957 shot Ohio's traffic death toll to 2,036 for the year, shattering hopes by state officials for a drop below the 1956 figure.

With 11 days in 1957 remaining, the year's traffic death toll stood at 1,932. That was 91 short of the entire 1956 figure. Another 62 would die if the daily average over the year held, officials figured.

But in what highway safety director Gordon Jeffery calls a "shameful period of tragedy" the final 11 days saw 104 deaths, and brought the year's total to 2,036, an increase of slightly less than one per cent over the 1956 figure of 2,023.

The death rate was identical in 1956 and 1957. Each year recorded 5.6 deaths for every 100 million miles traveled.

Traffic fatalities on rural highways last year dropped one per cent below the 1956 total. Of the 1957 total, 976 happened on rural state highways, compared with the 981 reported in 1956.

Klan Chieftain Told Surrender

Carolina Preacher, Pal Are Indicted

LUMBERTON, N. C. (AP)—A South Carolina Ku Klux Klan leader was ordered to surrender today on a charge of inciting a riot between Klansmen and Indians.

Sheriff Malcolm McLeod said that if the Rev. James Cole, 33, of Marion, S. C., did not meet the deadline, he would begin legal proceedings for his arrest in South Carolina.

Rev. Mr. Cole describes himself as head of the Klan in both Carolinas.

A Robeson County grand jury composed of 3 Indians, 2 Negroes and 13 white men indicted Rev. Mr. Cole and Klansman James Garland Martin of Reidsville, N.C. Monday on charges of inciting riot. In addition, the grand jury cited others of the KKK "unknown to the state."

The charges stemmed from the Klan's short-lived rally Saturday as several hundred Indians, firing shotguns and rifles, drove the Klansmen from the site, near Maxton, 30 miles from here. Four persons suffered slight injuries as the Indians fired mostly into the air and into the ground. State troopers broke up the fracas.

AUTHORITIES already had custody of Martin, a 37-year-old tobacco plant worker. Officers found him in a ditch after the shooting and charged him with drunkenness and carrying concealed weapons. He will be tried on those charges at Maxton Wednesday by Judge Early Bullard, an Indian.

Rev. Mr. Cole has a police record of minor offenses in his native Lenoir County, N. C. Most of the charges were for assault or drunken offenses, Kingston police said. "I'm sorry I came to Robeson County and I'm sorry I ever joined the Klan," Martin told newsmen. "I didn't think my fellow Klansmen would vanish in time of need."

Escapee Captured While Sipping Wine

COLUMBUS (AP)—An escapee from an Ohio Penitentiary honor work detail was re-captured Monday night as he sat in the kitchen of a near North Side residence, drinking wine.

Tipped he was in the area, 25 policemen closed in on Burnice Turner, 40, and captured him without a struggle. Also taken into custody were James A. Shoemaker, 50, and his wife Helen, 33, who were with Turner.

Turner was passed over for parole two days before Christmas because he could find no sponsor on the outside.

Fairfield County Road Relocation Bids Sought

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Department of Highways plans to open bids March 4 on a project that will relocate four miles of U. S. 33 between Carroll and Lancaster in Fairfield County.

The four-lane highway will join a section of U.S. 33 between Canal Winchester and Carroll that was built several years ago. It will be a divided highway.

Peace with Honor Reigns in Sabina

By JACK AYER

Record-Herald Staff Writer

SABINA — Peace with honor reigns in this village today, with Police Chief Robert A. (Newt) Morris providing the peace, and Village Solicitor Kenneth O. Stone supplying the honor.

Largely through Stone's efforts, Village Council and Mayor H. W. Hill were able to talk things over peacefully Monday night. They held an amicable and fruitful discussion of their most persistent problem: who's chief of police? The winner: Morris.

The "loser" E. T. (Tiff) Haines, can hardly be said to have lost. He'll go back to pounding the daytime downtown beat, just like he did before and during the hassle. He'll be ranked as patrolman, but he won't lose a nickel in pay.

An unmistakable air of tension hung over the Council room as

Four Routed by Blaze

Old Hotel Burns In Mt. Sterling

MT. STERLING — Four hotel residents were left homeless in the driving rain here early Tuesday when fire gutted a 70-year-old two-story brick business building across from the Town Hall.

Volunteer departments from seven communities were called to fight the blaze, which started about 4:30 a. m. and raged unabated until after 8:30. A five-and-a-half-cent store and beer carry-out were ruined along with the hotel. Preliminary damage estimate was $75,000.

Miss Sarah Williams, sister of the owner, saved herself and other residents of the building when she awoke about 4:30 a. m. and smelled smoke. All four were routed, but nothing was saved.

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately, although the blaze apparently started somewhere on the second floor.

Fireman Bob Steel of Franklin Twp. was overcome by smoke and fireman John Joseph of Mt. Sterling broke several fingers. Both were reported to be recovering. Other volunteer units were from Franklin and Madison Counties.

The brick shell of the building was generally left standing, but firemen gave every indication it would have to be destroyed. Only wreckage remained outside. Located at the corner of Route 62 and Route 56, the building is diagonally across from Mt. Sterling's Town Hall. It was constructed in 1883.

G. R. Williams is the owner of the building. The hotel section, now occupied as residence units, is called the Hotel Tenny.

Dems Rap Claims By Ike, Adams

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top Senate Democrats challenged today President Eisenhower's contention that the nation's security has been "markedly strengthened" during his five years in office.

The Democrats also struck back at the assertion by Sherman Adams, chief presidential assistant, that their party has been "polticking with national defense."

Defense matters received major attention as Eisenhower, Adams and other administration officials addressed a series of Republican rallies throughout the nation Monday night. Eisenhower's speech in Chicago was part of a half-hour program carried by a radio-television network.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee said Eisenhower told only part of the story in claiming that the nation's defense have been bolstered under Republican rule.

"OF COURSE," Russell said, "we have got the B52 bomber and the B38 on its way during the period in which Eisenhower has been President. We have strengthened ourselves, but all defense is a relative matter."

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), a member of the preparedness committee investigating the missile and satellite programs, said the Eisenhower administration has "failed in its imperative responsibility" to keep the United States well ahead of Russia.

"Comparatively speaking, we are considerably less secure than when Eisenhower took office," he said.

Sen. Mansfield of Montana, the assistant Democratic leader, agreed with Russell and Kefauver in saying the Democrats are trying to keep politics out of consideration of the defense program.

Eisenhower said the objective of security "is not a partisan or political matter."

But in Minneapolis, Adams accused the Democrats of playing politics with national defense in an effort to unify a party he said was divided, and said they "ought to be called strictly to account by the American people for using this subject as party glue."

Adams added that "we Republicans greet the opposition on this battlefield with as much anticipation as any other they can conjure up."

"It's too bad the coach and the quarterback didn't get together before the game and before they got crossed up on their signals," Mansfield commented.

Vice President Nixon said from New York that the Democratic party is so divided "it is incapable of effectively leading the nation" in the space era.

Avco Plant Hit By Midnight Strike

CINCINNATI (AP)—Pickets marched at the gates of Avco Manufacturing Corp.'s plant in nearby Evendale today after a midnight strike of electrical workers over pay.

Members of Electrical Workers Union Local 1842 authorized the strike Monday after rejecting a company offer of seven cents more in wages and 1½ cents in fringe benefits. The strike involves about 600 employees.

Watchman's Criminal Ventures Prove Costly

CLEVELAND (AP)—A brief venture into crime brought nothing but grief and a guilty conscience to a 44-year-old watchman here.

The conscience-stricken watchman came to police and said he took $700 Friday from the plant where he worked.

But, he told police woefully, hoodlums "rolled" him.

The $700 is still missing.

$1.4 Billion OK'd For Emergency In Air Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today voted an emergency $1.4 billion fund to speed missile programs and give more punch to the Air Force retaliatory power.

This is $40 million more than President Eisenhower requested two weeks ago.

The addition is all for the Army, to bolster its missile programs. A last-minute revision doubled the proposed increase by allotting $20 million for the Pershing project aimed to develop a solid-fuel successor to the Army's 200-mile range Redstone.

Of the total, $14 million is new cash and 90 million is authority to transfer funds already available. The $40 million increase is in the transfer funds.

The House will consider the committee's action Wednesday and there are indications of a strong drive to boost this sum.

THE NEW MONEY will be made available to the Defense Department immediately to finance space age weapons programs which are developing faster than anticipated.

In a report written by Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.), chairman of a subcommittee that drafted the measure, the committee said "our military strength as of today, in the over-all, is superior to that of the U.S.S.R." although in the critical areas of space satellites and ballistic missiles "we are generally behind" Russia.

The Air Force's share of the new funds in the emergency bill is $910 million, earmarked for dispersal of the Strategic Air Command's fleet of nuclear-bomb planes, and development of the Atlas, Thor and Jupiter ballistic missiles.

The money will provide also for construction of intermediate range ballistic missile platforms and facilities for an operational intercontinental ballistic missile squadron at Cooke Air Force Base in California, and for two overseas IRBM squadrons.

The Navy is allotted $350 million in new cash, of which $296 million is for construction of three atomic submarines capable of firing the Polaris ballistic missile.

The committee approved the President's request that he be allowed to use $10 million of available funds for the new Advanced Research Projects Agency.

$14 Million In Road Bids Opened Today

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Department of Highways today opened bids on about $14 million worth of road construction and improvement projects.

The bids were the first offered by contractors this year. Within the next six weeks the department tentatively plans to open bids on projects having a total value of about $54 million.

Today's projects included a 4.7-mile section of the Cincinnati to Conneaut Freeway in Morrow County, to be finished Aug. 31, 1959.

The apparent low bid of $3,437,088 was submitted jointly by Coddell Construction Co. of Winchester, Ky., and H. & F. H. Hosea of Cincinnati. The estimate was $3,759,800.

Two traffic interchanges for a section of the Cincinnati to Toledo Freeway (U. S. 25) recently completed south of Lima are included in another project.

The apparent low bid of $849,633 was submitted by Frantz Brothers, Inc., of Sidney. The estimate was $1,023,200.

The project is to be completed by Sept. 30, 1959.

Man Found Dead Of Burns in Home

Fatal Accident While He Is Alone

LYNCHBURG — A former Pike-ton school principal, with relatives in the Washington C. H. area, was found dead at his home here Monday, the victim of third-degree burns from flaming cooking grease.

Dr. Robert C. Cleays, Lynchburg deputy coroner, identified him as Daniel Farmer, 64, a Lynchburg resident for the past five years. Dr. Cleays said Farmer died as a result of second and third degree burns over 90 percent of his body.

Mrs. Farmer found the body of her husband about noon Monday, when she returned from teaching school. Farmer had apparently been cooking breakfast for himself when flaming grease jumped from a frying pan to his clothing. His body was on the kitchen floor.

A PIKETON native and a combat veteran of World War I, Farmer taught school in Pike County for 40 years and acted as principal in the Pike-ton school system for 21 years. He retired and came to Lynchburg five years ago.

A son, Robert Paul, died in 1953 in Korea.

Survivors include three children, Daniel Henry, Jr., of Allensburg, Mrs. Jack Bagford of Yellow Springs and Martha at home; two brothers, Charles of Washington C. H. and Hugh of New Holland, two sisters, Mrs. Marie Dailey of Pike-ton and Mrs. Emma Queen of Denver, Colo.; and two grandchildren. Services will be at 2 p. m. Thursday in the K. K. Davis Funeral Home, Lynchburg, with burial in Lynchburg cemetery.

Ohio Air Base Strategy Hit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Flood (D-Pa.) contends the Air Force is "inviting" an enemy to destroy Wright-Patterson in Ohio in its plan to station big bombers there. The congressman made this comment regarding the proposal to make the big field near Dayton one of 33 dispersal bases for heavy bombers.

He told Lt. Gen. C. S. Irvine, the Air Force's deputy chief of staff for materiel, in an exchange made public by a defense appropriations subcommittee: "You put a bomber base there and invite not only the enemy to get the base plastered, but you also destroy Wright-Patterson as a complex."

"Is that too bright? I do not think it is."

Irvine replied: "One of our reasons, Mr. Flood, for dispersal is to enable us to get the airplanes in the air quicker."

"I AGREE that Wright-Patterson is a good target, but, by having the airplanes there, it enables us to use that runway and get another area in which we can get more B52s (heavy bombers) in the air quicker than if we did not have it."

"I grant you that, if money, time, and so forth, were no object, we would build another base."

The Air Force, as a time and money saving device, wants to extend runways at 33 existing bases for squadrons of 15 B52s each.

These planes would be on constant alert, ready to strike back in case of enemy attack. In Ohio, the Air Force wants to set up three of these bases: At Wright-Patterson, at Clinton County, and at Lockbourne.

treats, in all of which the Community Chest funds had a part. Dewey Sheidler, reporting for the Boy Scouts, said there are now 340 boys participating in the program and that three new troops are now being formed.

Mrs. Harford Hankins Jr. said there were 14 groups of Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds with an enrollment of 140 here last year and that the day camp plan, started last year, will be expanded.

Larry Soldan explained that the Community activity fund helped pay for the Christmas decorations and treat for the 1,600 youngsters and the Fourth of July and Halloween celebrations.

There are 85 girls enrolled in the eight Girl Scout troops, Mrs. Margaret Woodson said and added that the program could be expanded this year if more adult leaders will lend a hand.

COMMUNITY CHEST funds went to pay the wages of a caretaker and for upkeep and maintenance of the park on Millikan Ave., Richard Waters, a member of the park board, told the directors. He said "literally thousands" took advantage of the park's facilities last summer.

More than a third of the money received by the Red Cross went into the blood program last year, Joseph Peters, Red Cross chapter president, said. He also reported that 862 pints of blood had been used at the hospital, 225 people had participated in the water safety program, that 113 servicemen had been given help in many ways and that a new organization, the Gray Ladies, had been formed to help at the Veterans Hospital in Chillicothe.

The Retarded Children's Council, Mrs. Stanley Graulich said, had started a special class last year and that eight are now enrolled in it. She also said more could be taken care of "if we had the transportation to bring them to the class."

The 4-H club camp and the USO were not represented at the meeting.

Ike Says U. S. Military Strength to 'Grow Stronger'

CHICAGO (AP)—President Eisenhower says America is strong militarily "and will grow ever stronger" and declares that national security must be barred as a political issue in this year's congressional election campaigns.

The President also told a Republican $100-a-plate dinner rally and a nationwide TV-radio audience Monday night that United States defense is markedly stronger than when he took office five years ago.

Eisenhower again pledged effective modernization of the defense setup to deal more adequately with the Russian threat in the future. And he told applauding party faithfuls here that in the modernization program "I intend to participate personally until the job is done."

The President, with Mrs. Eisenhower at his side, spoke for 15 minutes before about 5,000 enthusiastic diners at Chicago's International Amphitheatre at the start of his sixth year as chief executive. His talk kicked off the 1958 drive to capture control of Congress from the Democrats.

THE PRESIDENT said the first Republican objective—security and a just peace—is not a partisan or political matter, adding, "Americans must never and will never

Two Fined in Court On Traffic Charges

Two traffic cases were heard in Municipal Court Tuesday, and five bond forfeitures were recorded.

Pleading guilty to speeding was Joe Sandhaus, 50, of Cleveland, who was fined $10 and costs. Charles Leichman, 54, of 1424 Lindbergh Ave., was fined $5 and costs after he pleaded guilty to making an illegal turn. Judge Max G. Dice suspended the fine.

Forfeiting bond for non-appearance on speeding charges were Raymond W. Bee, 49, of Sunbury; Richard Williams, 20, of Springfield and Sherman E. Harris, 37, of Springfield, all $20; and William E. Gardner, 46, of 707 N. North St., $10.

Forfeiting $15 on a red light charge was William A. McDonald, 36, of Marietta.

President Winged Back to Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower were due back at the White House this afternoon. The President and his wife spent last night in Chicago after his address to a Republican campaign fund-raising dinner.

The presidential plane, Columbine III, took off from Midway Airport, Chicago, this morning a heavy snowstorm. The snow was melting as it fell and turned to slush. The Weather Bureau said the flying ceiling was around 600 feet and visibility less than two miles.

moved a bit higher in an irregular stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderate. Gains of fractions to around a point and losses in about the same range were shown by pivotal stocks. Ralls resumed their decline from last week's spectacular advance. New York Central paced the retreat, down a point following news of its omitted dividend. General Dynamics and Lockheed were higher and in demand following words that the Navy advised Congress that progress on the Polaris missile may warrant speeding up programs for submarines to launch it. Lockheed makes the Polaris and General Dynamics the submarines. The market was uncertain following Monday's failure to pierce the barrier of the November high, an important resistance point to upward progress. Smaller gains were made by Youngstown Sheet, Sears Roebuck, Caterpillar, Radio Corp., International Nickel, Westinghouse Electric and Texas Co. Illinois Central lost about a point, and Baltimore & Ohio lost fractions. U. S. government bonds went narrowly to the upside.

During the past year, the membership was increased to 57 through the baptism of 27 new members and the transfer by letter of nine others, the report of the Board of Deacons showed.

The annual business meeting Jan. 17, at which the election and installation were held, was conducted by the Rev. Robert Winterton, the moderator.

Oral reports were given also by the president of the Missionary Society; the Baptist Brotherhood and president of the Senior Baptist Youth Fellowship. The chairman of the sales tax redemption committee reported $84 received from this source.

But he said: "We are quite sure, however, that we can move along this year as quickly as plans can be developed and right-of-way acquired."

He said state-wide road projects started or under contract last year totaled 290.5 million dollars, or 67 million over the previous record.

More than 8,700 feet of new gas mains were installed in Washington C. H. during 1957, according to A. E. Weatherly, district manager of the Dayton Power and Light Co.

He said that the work is part of a continuous program of keeping the mains in good condition so that natural gas can be delivered efficiently. Many other mains have been enlarged to provide a greater capacity for future demands.

More than a hundred miles of new gas mains were installed last year in the entire area served by DP&L. This was the fifth year DP&L exceeded that amount in its gas construction program.

Railway Industry Problem Needs Attention

That there is a real emergency, with problems of a serious nature, facing the railways of the country, is a situation that is being recognized and has become noticeable with each succeeding year.

Something will have to be done about it if this huge industry can continue to be counted upon to contribute its share to the growth of our national economy, to our much discussed national defense, and to provide the jobs and business it should provide.

Right now the whole industry's position is reportedly becoming precarious, with many lines operating for many past months at practically no profit and with thousands of men and women being laid off; job-making purchases by the railways are being cut to the bone. Postponement of remedial measures is said to be imperiling the whole industry.

It is said that the real trouble begins with government, federal, state and, in many cases, local. The complaint seems to be made justifiably, that they are treating the railroad industry as if it were still the wealthy monopoly it was a few generations ago.

The railways, according to their statements are not seeking any "handouts" from government. They insist that they merely ask for a fair deal in being left less hampered by restriction in their effort to meet the modern day competition against which it can no longer be treated as a monopoly.

We have seen the gradual decrease in railway activity even here in Washington C. H. as compared with its business rush of 25 or more years ago. What must it be in metropolitan or larger industrial centers?

Railways must compete for their living with the users of untold billions of dollars worth of publicly provided and untaxed (to competitors) highways, airways and waterways. They must buy and provide their own rights-of-way and other facilities and pay heavy tax upon them. These taxes even help increase the extent and competitive efficiency of their rivals for business. The rate of growth of these rivals proves that railways today face very powerful competition for every service they offer.

It is also becoming a recognized fact that many railways have for some years been earning only a bare living by modern American standards.

Only within the past few days this has all pertinently brought to public attention in a 19-point program being laid before Congress by James M. Symes, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, which, he declared, could greatly aid in putting the railway industry back on its feet. The alternate, he stated, could very well be "ultimate government operation of the railroads and quite possibly other means of transportation."

President Symes further stated that the railroads stand at this moment at the cross-roads of decision as to whether they follow the free enterprise line with their illness corrected by proven American methods, or are to be forced into the socialistic road with alien remedies and exceedingly dangerous implications. "In other countries," he said, "taking over business - sick railway systems has been always one of the first steps to nationalization of basic industry. There is no reason to suppose it will not happen here."

The program of relief, as reported being suggested to Congress, does not seem unreasonable to most economic observers. It should have the earnest attention of our federal and state lawmakers. Government money is not being sought.

There are few informed people, indeed, who believe that this country can afford to gamble with a nationalized transport system. It is too great a segment of our over-all economy. Nationalization (government control or ownership), once started, might not stop there. It could easily prove a dangerous set-back for us in the world-wide economic and ideological warfare now being waged.

Insomnia Relief Costs Run High

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That Americans pay $100 million a year for the relief of insomnia. The late W. C. Fields found the best cure for this ailment years ago; his prescription: "Get more sleep."

That British horticulturists say freaks among Britain's flowers have increased five times normal in the last year; they believe this may be due to radioactive fallout.

That Kate Smith, after 27 years, is dropping "When the Moon Comes Over the Mountain" as her theme song; she is just plain tired of it after singing it 10,000 times.

That the Duke of Edinburgh, who ought to know, once said, "Discipline is the force which causes a man to play the part required of him in the organization to which he belongs."

That in Great Britain each year more people commit suicide than are killed in highway accidents.

That you will blink your eyes about two million times in 1958.

That a Sixth Avenue shop here specializing in back numbers of magazines and newspapers has this sign: "Read Yesterday's News Tomorrow!"

That tea drinking Tokyo now has 4,000 coffee shops.

That a researcher has found the divorce rate among penguins is about 10 per cent; they get along together better than people.

That baking soda is an excellent fire extinguisher, particularly if the fire is in your stomach.

That comedian George De Witt sums up the march of science thusly: "Modern man has the genius to make rain, but lacks the common sense to come out of it."

By Hal Boyle

That in England a run in a woman's stocking is called a ladder.

That it can't be said the U.S. has let down the Hungarian refugees altogether; during 1957, scholarships totalling more than $1½ million were awarded to 765 of these young fighters for freedom.

That in Morocco young boys catch butterflies and rub the wings against their cheeks in the belief this will speed the growth of a beard, which is a symbol of strength there.

That if all businessmen filed copies of their expense accounts with their income tax returns, it would make a paper mountain 15 miles high.

That it was Francis Bacon who observed long ago, "Prosperity is not without any fears and distastes; and adversity is not without comforts and hopes."

New Jersey Politics

The state of New Jersey is different from any other state in that a part of its population works in New York, another part in Philadelphia.

Its industrial cities such as Newark, Passaic, Paterson, and there are many more, are constantly growing and its bedroom towns to which New Yorkers move, are increasing in number and population.

Politically, the state used to be Republican but in recent years, it has become Democratic. In fact, the most powerful so-called big city boss developed anywhere in this country, Frank Hague, was a Jersey Democratic satrap.

It is a state with large populations of Poles, Hungarians, White Russians and other former Europeans.

Like the Republican party in New York state, the Republicans in New Jersey have become torn by internecine strife between moderns, as represented by Sen. Clifford Case, and the pre-1952 Republicans who have been voting Democratic locally, thus helping Gov. Meynor in the last election to enjoy a run-away victory.

The pre-1952 Republicans, in New Jersey believe, as their counterparts in New York believe, that if they have to vote a radical, they would prefer him to be in the Democratic party.

New Jersey's senior U. S. Sen.

H. Alexander Smith's term is up and he has wanted to be re-elected. Although he is 77 years old, by no stretch of the imagination can he be regarded as aged, since Sen. Green of Rhode Island is 90 and can Cha-Cha for long and arduous hours.

Maybe, Green possesses such gifts because he is a bachelor. At any rate, Smith, who has regularly served the Eisenhower administration faithfully, was declared to be too aged in favor of Bernard Shanley who was the President's secretary and resigned that position to run for Smith's.

Shanley either miscalculated his strength or the value of the President's name, but his candidacy has not built the momentum that had been expected.

Furthermore, the Republican leadership of the state had anticipated that by joint action of the two United States senators, Smith and Case, and the state chairman, Samuel L. Bodine, if Shanley could not be put over, they would be able to call off all sorts of other candidates and instead nominate Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen Jr., who is an Eisenhower Republican and comes of an old and distinguished New Jersey family.

Such a move, however, is not likely to succeed as there is such strong grass-roots opposition to the Republican leadership in New Jersey that several unexpected persons are presenting themselves as candidates for the nomination of United States senator in Smith's place.

Among the most active of these is Robert Morris, who is resigning his position as counsel for the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee. Morris has held judicial office in New York State, but comes of a New Jersey family with deep roots in that state. He is actively campaigning as a conservative Republican with a long history of anti-Communist activity as counsel for congressional committees.

By George Sokolsky

Morris is making an energetic fight for the nomination, going directly to those who are likely to vote in the primaries and re-kindling Republican aspirations.

This contest is interesting because it is developing into a clear-cut fight between the modern Republicans and the pre-1952 Republicans on a basis of principle and strategy. Perhaps the greatest strategic weakness of the Republican party both in New

Diet and Health

Dress for Activity As Well as Weather

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

DON'T bundle up your child too warmly this winter. Overdressing a child who plans to play in the snow, might actually cause him to develop a cold. Here's why:

When a youngster is dressed too snugly under layers of shirts, mufflers and a heavy coat or snowsuit, he might easily perspire as he romps about having a good time.

Playing in Snow

If a young boy or girl becomes tired and warm while playing in snow, you know what he or she is likely to do. The simplest way to rest and cool off at the same time is to drop into a snowbank.

That cold, wet snow may give him a severe chill. And chilling, as you have been advised countless times, very often leads to colds and pneumonia.

To avert such possibilities, the best thing to do is to put fewer clothes on a tot, especially if his outer garment is a snowsuit with tight bands at the wrists and ankles.

Make Him Come In

Watch your favoring youngster. When he appears tired, make him come into the house to rest.

We have to tell children what to do, of course, since they must be guided by older and wiser persons. But I'm afraid most of you must be told how to dress in winter, too.

You must dress not only for the weather, but for your activity as well. If you are going out to shovel snow, you can expect to work up a sweat. So don't dress as warmly as you would to go to work where you may have to spend some time on a windy corner waiting for a bus.

Thorough Chilling

You can get a thorough chilling just standing outside if your clothing is too light.

When you do get aboard a bus, train or other heated conveyance, be sure to open your outer clothing. When you go indoors, take it off.

Even if you are only going to stay inside for a few minutes, take off your coat. If you don't, you probably will begin to perspire.

Stepping outside into freezing weather when you are overheated is almost like walking into a refrigerator in your bathing suit.

Don't take any chances. Let's use a little common sense this winter.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
C. W.: I have epilepsy. Is there any danger of my child having epilepsy?
Answer: Your child has only one in a 100 chance of having chronic epilepsy.

From the top of Mount Everest, Sir Edmund Hillary has gone to the "bottom of the globe" at the South Pole. Now, there's a fellow who really has ups and downs!

Prince Charles' clothes now have that "casual look," we hear from London. Does that mean the royal moppet's suit needs pressing?

Russia's No. 2 sputnik has now circled the earth for the 1,000th time. Scenery must be getting monotonous.

Fellow in California was arrested on a charge of trying to swipe the $40,000 prize money in that televised Bing Crosby golf tourney. F.E.F. wonders if he growled: "Put 'er there, bub!"

Or, suggests the man at the next desk, maybe he thought it was billiards and was just trying to pocket the prize.

King Gustav Adolf has asked the Swedish parliament for a $50,000 raise. However, we doubt he'll go on strike if he doesn't get it.

A St. Louis radio station has promised its listeners to bust every new rock 'n' roll recording after playing it just once. That, says Grandpappy Jenkins, is a cracking good idea!

York and New Jersey is that the acknowledged leaders have lost contact with the party's supporters who have in a large measure been drifting away during the past five years.

During the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, these Republicans had targets which they could fight and against which they held local lines. Since Eisenhower became President, their targets have been removed and all they can do is to grumble. Many stay away from the polls; many vote for local Democrats.

This analysis represents Republicans who want nothing for themselves. They ask of their party a candidate for whom they can conscientiously vote.

They did not feel that Sen. Clifford Case was such a candidate, but they had no organized means to defeat him. Since his election, Sen. Clifford Case has had practically no influence in New Jersey.

It is possible that the conservative element in the Republican party will take over in the 1958 election, but it is not at all certain that any Republican can be elected.

Industrial Aides Seek Roles in SUB Lawsuit

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three Columbus men have asked permission to enter a Youngstown lawsuit involving Supplemental Unemployment Benefits.

A hearing will be held Wednesday by Common Pleas Judge Erskine Maiden at Youngstown on the petition of Donald R. Smith of Timken Roller Bearing Co., Richard H. Ward of Westinghouse Corp., and a representative of the C. E. Morris Co., steel fabricators.

They claim they will be discriminated against if Supplemental Unemployment Benefits are legalized. Wood chips reclaimed from seven sawmills in Maine and New Hampshire annually are commercially used in place of trees that would occupy about 20,000 acres of woodland per year. Formerly the chips were discarded as waste.

Half the Battle: Selecting Proper Form for Return

Editor's Note: The second in an eight-part series, this article describes how to select the proper form for filing your income tax return. Later articles will deal with classes of returns, exemptions, taxable income, deductions and other important subjects.

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Newsfeatures Writer

When you have all the facts and figures collected on your 1957 income and deductions, the next step is to decide which form to use in filing your tax return.

There are two basic forms available—the 1040 and the 1040A. The 1040 can be used as a short form, using only page 1, or as a long form, using pages 1 and 2, and possibly 3 and 4. You should pick the form that fits the size and type of your income and expenses.

Form 1040A is the simplest of all, and the Internal Revenue Service would like to see it used more than it is. It is a printed card, about the size of an ordinary check, and can be processed by machine. It's designed to save both taxpayer and tax collector considerable time and trouble.

The IRS says about 30 million taxpayers could use this form if they only would. Last year 14 million did, and IRS hopes at least 20 million will this year.

1040A doesn't call for any great detail. You could probably finish your income tax chores in five minutes or less by using it. All you have to do is fill out a few blanks, sign it, and send it to the revenue service. They'll figure up your tax and send you a bill or a refund, depending on your individual situation.

If you want, you can compute your own taxes from the instructions you'll get, and enter it on the form. This will be to your advantage if you have a refund coming, because you'll probably get your check from the government a bit sooner. However, if you do your own computing and find you owe Uncle Sam more taxes, you must send along a check for the amount—you can't wait for a bill.

The gimmick on this easy, almost painless, way of filing your return is that not everyone is eligible to use it, and you may not want to use it even if you can.

For instance, your total income must not be more than $4,999.99. If it's a joint return, the combined income of husband and wife must not exceed $4,999.99. This income must consist mainly of salaries or wages from which income taxes have been withheld. Not more than $100 can be in other wages, dividends or interest.

You can't use the 1040A if you have other types of income such as annuities, rent receipts, royalties, pension payments, business profits, professional earnings, security transactions, farming income, or earnings as a participant in partnerships, estates and trusts.

And you can't use this form if you want to itemize your deductions or deduct your business-connected expenses (such as traveling costs) of "sick pay." Nor can you use it if you claim the special "head of household" status.

If you can't use 1040A, or don't want to, you'll next have to decide how many pages of the 1040 you should fill out.

Form 1040 is printed on pages about the size of a large letterhead. There are four pages, but the average taxpayer needs worry only about pages 1 and 2.

If your adjusted gross income is not more than $4,999.99, you may be able to get by with page 1 only. Your adjusted gross income is what's left after you've deducted your business expenses and sick pay exclusions. Thus, you can have a total income of $5,000 or more, and still use just page 1 if those deductions bring the adjusted gross below the $5,000 mark.

On this form, too, there are certain restrictions. You can get by using just page 1 if you are single with no dependents to claim as exemptions, or if you are married and claim exemptions only for your wife and children. And to use the first page only you must accept the standard 10 per cent deduction, just as on the 1040A.

If your adjusted gross income is $5,000 or more, you have no choice. You must use the longer form of 1040, which means pages 1 and 2, and possibly 3 and 4.

This calls for a bit more work, but there are a number of special benefits you can claim. For instance, if you have other dependents besides your wife and children—say your mother or mother-in-law, a niece or nephew, etc.—and you are qualified to claim them as exemptions, you can list them on page 2 and thus reduce your tax.

Also on page 2 you can itemize your deductions for interest paid, charity, medical expenses, etc., and this may result in a substantial saving to you.

Pages 3 and 4 are for use in reporting income from dividends, interest, rents and royalties, and from partnerships, estates, trusts or other sources.

Remember, the first $30 of dividend income—$100 if the stock is jointly owned with your wife—is tax free.

If you use the short form of 1040, or page 1 only, a table on the back of the instruction book will tell you your tax liability according to your marital status, the number of your exemptions and the size of your adjusted gross income.

If you use the long form you get the help of a table, but you still have to do the arithmetic of working out your own tax.

By looking over your income figures you should now be able to select the proper form to use this year in filing your tax return. The next article will deal with the various classes of returns.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

It has now been 25 years since the last case of smallpox was reported in Fayette County—thanks to the efficient work of the local health department back through the years, as well as the work of other health departments of the state.

In February 1933, two cases of smallpox came under jurisdiction of the health department, and prompt and effective work held the disease without spreading, and during the intervening years an extensive program of vaccination has virtually eradicated the disease in this area.

Miss Gretchen Darlington, efficient head of the nurses connected with the department and who is in active charge of the department here when the health commissioner is absent, recently went back through the records until she found when the last case of the dread disease was reported in the county.

Checking further she also found that in 1932 there were 30 cases of the disease here since it had quite a start when first reported.

Until about 30 years ago when smallpox was reported in the county, efforts were made to suppress the information in the newspapers on the grounds that it would cause hysteria and loss of business in the community. I always took the stand that publicity would help halt the epidemic.

It is pointed out by Miss Darlington that since there is so much more traveling than there used to be, dangers of communicable diseases have increased many fold, but the good work of health organizations throughout the country reduced communicable diseases to a minimum, and abolished nearly all danger along that line.

While an increased number of folks apparently are still "digging their graves with their teeth," health from a communicable disease standpoint is a great deal improved.

OLD TIME SMITHIES

Bloomington used to have a half dozen blacksmiths, most of whom were skilled workmen and were kept busy shoeing horses, sharpening plow shares and shovels, and doing a great deal of other work, not only with metal, but wood.

These "smithies" included Hal Worrell, John Speaks, Tom Elliott, Jurden Jones, Mart Armstrong and Charles Groff.

Mart Armstrong also operated a shop at Yatesville before moving to Bloomington and opening a shop, as I recall.

Most of these smithies could build a wagon if necessary, and were experts in welding, fashioning horse shoes, and making just about anything and everything that the farmers and others required.

In those days they made their own bolts and taps or nuts to fit, and frequently made smaller tools for gardening and farming.

Other central points in the county had their blacksmiths, and in most instances all were skilled workmen who had no regular hours but kept their shops open as long as necessary to accommodate their customers.

More than once I watched the Bloomington smithies at work, and wished I knew how to handle the forge, hammer and anvil, and other equipment, and particularly how to weld iron and steel.

It was many years before I had a chance to try my skill with home smithing equipment, in making repairs on farm machinery, but I found it fascinating work.

FEARED ROBBERY

My recent story on the old covered bridge over Paint Creek a mile south of Washington C. H., has brought several echoes, including the following:

According to stories handed down the covered bridge was once the scene of hold-ups and robberies under cover of darkness, and as a result men with money on them shunned the bridge after nightfall.

Farmers who had driven hogs, cattle or sheep into the city and sold them, and were walking home with hundreds of dollars in cash in their pockets, detoured when they approached the bridge.

In other words they slipped across the former Bass Rankin farm, now the scene of the White-side Mink Ranch, waded Paint Creek at a riffle a few hundred feet up stream from the bridge, walked across the bottom land on the Martin Grove farm and reentered the Chillicothe Rd., near the Good Hope Rd. intersection.

This means of thwarting would-be hold-up men hiding in the covered bridge was carried out time after time, and the men who carried sizeable sums of money made certain they would not be held up at the bridge.

Others, who did not wish to make the safety detour, carried pistols and as they approached the bridge, drew their guns ready to shoot anyone who sought to interfere with them.

Not only was the above custom observed at the covered bridge over Paint Creek, but at other covered bridges where danger might lurk after nightfall. The covered bridges were ideal places for hold-ups.

PLAY SAFE - WITH PAINT

According to reports from the National Safety Council the larger majority of accidents occur in the home. Naturally, all of us are interested in doing everything possible to cut down accidents. One simple way to make basement and attic stairs safer is to paint a 2 inch strip across the outer edge of each step with luminous white paint. The paint will glow in the darkness, and be a constant reminder to be careful. Garden steps may be painted in this manner, too.

Don't delay those little paint jobs that play such a big part in home maintenance and improvement. We're happy to serve you in small ways—in any way that we can. Come in soon.

Middletown, Deshler Voted As Top Teams

Cleveland East Tech, Zanesville Battle for Second in Class AA

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's scrap for the state Class AA high school basketball championship turned into a race for second place today.

Of 30 sports writers voting in today's Associated Press poll, 22 pinned the No. 1 tag on Middletown's two-time state champs. Middletown racked up its 64th straight conquest Friday, trimming second-place Hamilton, 64-49, before a crowd of 13,649 in Cincinnati Gardens.

Only other teams to get atop spot nod were Columbus North (1), Toledo Scott (5), Canton McKinley (1) and Ironton (1).

Paul Walker's champs, in their tussle with their Butler County rivals, saw fabulous Jerry Lucas pour in 31 points—one less than half the Middle team—to run his 64-game point total to 2,016.

The win was Middletown's 12th of the year, and the loss was Hamilton's first in nine games. The defeat dropped Hamilton's Big Blue from second to fourth in the ratings as Cleveland East Tech moved into the runner-up spot. Zanesville clung to third.

Middletown and Cleveland East Tech took the 1-2 positions without voting aid from their home towns. Middletown piled up 285 poll points on the 10-9-8 etc voting basis, and East Tech without a first place vote—was next with 184.

Although the top 10 in Class AA was jumbled somewhat in the week's voting, only Canton South dropped from the select list—losing its No. 10 post to unbeaten Salem.

In Class A, where the teams were rated for the first time, Deshler with a 15-1 record emerged on top, a shade ahead of unbeaten Glenford. Only Glenford and the last three teams in the top 10—Sabina, Bethel and Dixie—are unbeaten. Ottawa Hills, with 9-2, made fourth place on five first-place votes from the Toledo area, and Columbiana's Clippers, beaten twice in eight starts, pulled up fifth.

From Here and There: Remember little Bethel's Blackhawks, who won 27 of 29 last year and lost in the state tourney semi-finals to Gratis by a point?

The little school, with only 16 boys enrolled, is at it again with 13 in a row. Ed Bode, the all-tournament center, is the only regular back on coach Dick Potts' team, and he's averaging 23.2. Last week Bethel handed Class AA Bellaire its first defeat, 68-62. "Tiny Tim" Phillips, Barnesville's 5-7 guard, scored 61 points in a 117-40 romp over Bethesda last week, the top performance in Class AA.

St. Clairsville's 6-5 Clyde Eads also had a big night as he went for 55 in the 77-33 win over Warwood, W. Va. Earlier in the week, St. Clairsville lost its first regular season game in two campaigns. Bridgeport won 55-46, despite a 31-point spurge by Eads. Bridgeport has won eight in a row, and is paced by 6-4 Johnny Havlicek—the kid Ohio State wants as a future quarterback. Havlicek has 267 points for an average of over 33, while Phillips is averaging 28.2 and Eads 29.8.

Pleasantville has won 11 of 13, losing a pair of two-pointers. Senior Buddy Miller, with 342 points and a 26.3 average, has a four-year total of 1,678.

Zanesville's third-placers had a narrow escape at Lancaster Friday, a last-minute field goal by Chuck Bryant defeating the Gales 50-49.

Hoosier Ace Keeps Lead in Scoring

CHICAGO (AP)—Archie Dees, Indiana's scoring ace, maintained his large lead last week in the Big Ten all-games basketball scoring race.

Dees, who produced 33 points in his only outing, upped his total to 306 points for a 12-game average of 25.5.

Ohio State's Frank Howard took over second place with 260 points in 13 games for a 20.0 average. In third place was Michigan's Pete Tillotson with 234 points in 12 games for a 19.5 average.

Out-of-State Cage Teams Fare Poorly in Ohio Tests

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio college basketball teams gave invading out-of-state opponents an inhospitable welcome Monday night. Only one of five visiting teams was able to take away a victory and it had to go into overtime to achieve that.

Ohio State moved into a second-place tie in the Big Ten on the wings of a 70-64 victory over Minnesota. The Bucks are tied with Indiana, which was idle Monday. Both teams have 3-2 marks and trail the conference leader, Michigan (3-1).

One other conference game was played. Ohio University edged Toledo 69-66, in a penalty-riddled Mid-American Conference game at Toledo.

Officials halted play 58 times because of fouls, and free throws provided the margin of victory. OU made 33 of 48, while the Rockets could only hit 24 of 42.

The victory moved the Bobcats into a third place tie with Bowling Green (3-2). Toledo is 1-4 in the conference.

Kentucky schools made a mass invasion of the state but only Kentucky State was able to win, downing

City has scored 524 in 15 games for a 34.9 average but the team has lost six. The 5-11 senior has made 181 of 307 from the field and 158 of 183 free throws, including one string of 29 straight.

Here is how Ohio's sports editors rate the state's Class AA and Class A basketball teams. Shown are first place votes in parentheses, the poll points on a 10-9-8 etc basis and the won-loss records of the leaders:

Golf Pros Heading For New Tourneys

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP)—The professional golf nomads split forces today, some for California, others to Panama and the newly-crowned winner of the $15,000 Tijuana Open, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, to Phoenix to rest up for the tournament there late this month.

Harrison who has campaigned in the tough tournament grind for about 20 of his 47 years, gave the youngsters a solid lesson in pocketing the $2,000 top money.

Playing the par 72 Tijuana Country Club course, Harrison did it with rounds of 71-71-69-280, eight strokes under par.

ing Central State, 80-79, in overtime.

Western Kentucky received the worst treatment—at the hands of Xavier. The Musketeers swamped the Hilltoppers, 102-76, for their 11th victory in 13 games. The Hilltoppers are 7-6.

Kentucky Christian was the third team to venture from the Blue Grass State. They were defeated by Rio Grande, 81-61. The victory moved the Redmen up to a .500 percentage, 5-5.

The biggest point production of the day came at Baldwin-Wallace. The Yellow Jackets took a 107-99 decision from Eastern Michigan.

The big score came despite the fact that B-W had to freeze the ball in the closing minutes to record their eighth win in 17 games. Eastern Michigan has lost 11 straight.

Mathias Says U. S. Fitness Is Waning

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Russia is going to win the 1960 Olympic games and another chunk of world-wide prestige unless America wakes up, says Bob Mathias, two-time Olympic decathlon champion.

Too much television, too many cars and not enough competition in grade school and high school have taken the edge off the physical condition of America's youth, added the man who first won the world's decathlon championship as a 17-year-old high school boy.

"Another trouble is we put too much emphasis on football and baseball so that kids aren't much interested in going out for gymnastics and tumbling and wrestling, and things like that," Mathias said Monday.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, died in 1633 of tuberculosis, two months after college classes began.

Stout Defense Defeats MSU

Wisconsin Is Winner Over Spartans, 66-52

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Defense isn't a forgotten art in present day basketball and one of the latest converts is Michigan State.

The Spartans, gunning for a first place tie in the Big Ten, ran into the defensive-minded Badgers from Wisconsin who pulled off an unexpected 66-52 victory.

And while the Badgers were busy harassing Michigan State, Ohio State pulled back into contention with a 70-64 victory over Iowa.

Michigan State's loss left idle Michigan on top of the heap with a 3-1 record with Indiana and Ohio State, both 3-2, tied for second. Michigan State (2-2), Northwestern (2-2), Purdue (2-2), Wisconsin (3-3), Iowa (2-3), Minnesota (1-2) and Illinois (1-3) followed.

Fordy Anderson, Michigan State coach, credited the Badger defense with the Wisconsin triumph. "Wisconsin played a nice defensive game," said Anderson. "This was partially responsible for our not hitting—which probably was a key factor."

The Spartans didn't hit. They connected on only 27 per cent of their shots while Wisconsin poured in a healthy 38 per cent.

MSU took a quick 12-6 lead before a Wisconsin rally, led by Walt Holt, put the Badgers out in front 17-15. Wisconsin maintained the two-point edge and was on top, 29-27, at halftime. From then on it was all Wisconsin. Holt finished with 22 points for scoring honors.

Wisconsin Coach Bud Foster was pleased and proud.

"The boys went out with their pre-game plan of attack and it worked all through the game," he added.

Frank Howard, Ohio State's All-America candidate, proved to be too much for Iowa's sophomores. Howard collected 22 points—tops for both teams—and snatched 18 rebounds as the Buckeyes took control of the boards.

Iowa managed four leads early in the game but OSU was in front 45-34 at halftime. The tremendous lead carried the Buckeyes through a slight second half slump. Ohio State out rebounded the Hawkeyes 57-34.

Iowa Coach Bucky O'Connor, who called Indiana's Archie Dees "one of the finest if not the finest player in the country" last Saturday when Iowa beat Indiana, had this to say about Howard:

"I think he is the strongest man I've seen in this league."

Only two conference games are scheduled Saturday. Iowa is at Minnesota in a region 11-7 televised matinee and Northwestern is at Michigan State that night. Illinois meets Notre Dame in a Chicago Stadium doubleheader, which also pits Loyola of Chicago against Marquette.

Ike at Odds With Advisers To Industry

Business Recession Timetable Views Show Difference

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) - President Elsenhower's views of the extent and probable timetable of the business recession are at odds with those of some of the economic advisers of industry.

As presented in Monday noon's economic report, the President holds:

1. The slump began sooner and hit harder than his advisers had told him to expect and presumably with the timetable stepped up the recovery should come earlier, too.

2. Some chief strong points in the economy haven't been hit much and will quickly outweigh those that were—with two new factors, enlarged defense spending and recently liberalized credit, already being felt.

The administration is counting on a reversal in the business and employment trends before the Fourth of July.

In industry the guessing was along that line, too, until recently.
Now there is a split among the business experts. A handful thinks the turn will come with Easter.
But many more experts have switched their ideas of the time for reversal of the trend to sometime around Thanksgiving or Christmas.

When looking at any guessing along those lines these days, remember:

This is an election year. And in and out of Washington one side will stress anything that makes the business and employment picture look bad, perhaps even worse than it is. The other side will call attention to the strong points and glow with optimism about the changes for a big new upsurge before the November voting.

Most non government economists and business leaders agree that greater defense spending will boost certain affected industries, and that if credit is liberalized to the point where borrowing costs turn notably lower other forms of spending will be boosted, particularly spending by the state and local governments.

But the more cautious think that the real turn in the business tide will be signaled by the reports of the durable goods industries as a whole when the current phase of trimming inventories ends, when capital goods makers report their backlog of orders has stopped falling and new orders have started to appear again in volume on their books, then the business boom will have been born.

The President points confidently a strong consumer demand, sustained to a large degree by the fact that so far there has been only a small decline in total incomes and hence in total buying power.

More cautious outsiders fear that this slight dip will become more pronounced between now and Easter.

The President also counts on rising outlays by state and local governments and on increased private spending on research and development. But he lays great stress on strong business confidence as shown in long range corporate programs for expansion and construction.

Business leaders go right along with this—on the long term phase of the economy.

But what worries them is the fairly sharp cut in plans for such spending this year; the evidence of wavering confidence shown by the hand to mouth ordering of retailers and wholesalers as well as the trimming of manufacturing inventories; and the lack of confidence shown by many stock market traders, with its repercussions on public psychology.

Males Cast Votes
For 1907 Fashions

DALLAS (AP) - Mrs. Virginia L.
Gambrell, director of the Dallas Historical Society Museum, says
"women haven't been dressing to suit men much of the time since 1830."

She said during the State Fair, 26,000 male votes were cast at an exhibited titled "What Do Men Like in Women's Fashions." Female garb since 1830 was exhibited.

Mrs. Gambrell, in the museum's annual report to the city council Monday, said "the favorite was a 1907 dress which was softly feminine—and left no doubt that it contained a lady, not potatoes."

Space: a Cradle For Human Boons

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP) - Space is tomorrow's cradle of fantastic new human boons.

It can bring better forecasting or even control of weather, secrets of stars and moon and Mars, world-wide TV, totally unpredictable boons and powers.

Or space is tomorrow's battleground of a savage, silent war.
This fateful decision underlies President Eisenhower's appeal to Soviet Premier Bulganin that nations dedicate space to peaceful uses.

Eminent scientists, American and Russian alike, predict men will fly in space, aboard space cruisers or platforms circling the earth.

What men do there can cast the die between peace or war.

Space platforms could be takeoff fields for rockets making discovery jaunts to sister planets or the real moon.

From the same platforms, rockets with H-bomb warheads could be shot down to hit any spot on earth with pinpoint accuracy.

But TV eyes for peace could chart cloud movements around the world, detect the birth of hurricanes and storms, vastly improve weather forecasting to aid farmer, picknick, ship and plane.

Man-made moons could serve as relay stations to bounce TV signals back for simultaneous reception around the world.

Germany's Prof. Hermann
Oberth foresees a gigantic mirror "hung" in space, focusing the sun's rays, as by a magnifying glass, at any desired intensity and beam.

"From space, the masters of infinity could have the power to control the earth's weather, to cause drought and flood, to change the tides and raise the evel of the sea, to divert the Gulf Stream, and change temperatures to climates to frigid," Sen. Lyndon Johnson declared recently.

Senator Johnson (D-Tex) did not detail how this might be done. He spoke after hearing secret testimony given to the Senate preparedness subcommittee.

Giant-Killers
Cutting Swath
In Top Listing

NEW YORK (AP) - If West Virginia's top-ranked Mountaineers and seven companions in the Associated Press' new weekly top 10 of college basketball are grateful today to be involved in mid-term exams, it's little wonder.

Monday night was a night for giant-killers.

Sixth-ranked Maryland and 10th-ranked Bradley learned the hard way—Maryland as it was bounced out of the Atlantic Coast Conference leadership by North Carolina State, 57-48, and Bradley in a shocking 58-55 loss to unsung Portland.

The eight others, and most of the nation's major clubs, are out of competition at least until Saturday while they concentrate on examinations.

West Virginia was again a romping winner in the AP poll with 925 points to 728 for runner-up Kansas.

Following the Mountaineers and Kansas, in order were: Kansas
State, Cincinnati, San Francisco,
Maryland, Oklahoma State, North Carolina, Kentucky and Bradley.
Dayton was ranked 17th.

The other East starters are Bob Cousy and Bill Sharman of Boston, Willie Naulls of New York and Dolph Schayes of Syracuse.

In the West's starting lineup will be Hannum's own Bob Pettit and Bater Martin of the St. Louis Hawks, Maurice Stokes of Cincinnati, Dick Garmaker of Minneapolis, and George Yardley of Detroit, the NBA's current top scorer with a 27.7 average.

Tribe Players To Be Taught
How to Run

CLEVELAND (AP) - It may come as a shock to the Cleveland Indians but their new manager, Bobby Bragan, wants to teach them
how to run.

Bragan has asked former Olympic sprint and hurdles champion Harrison Dillard to help the Indians develop that extra burst of speed.

Bragan, currently managing Al-mendares in the Cuban League, arrived from Havana Monday for his first look at Cleveland.

The former Pittsburgh Pirate manager talked in the club offices with another newcomer to the Tribe, general manager Frank Lane. Then he cornered Dillard, who works in the Indians' public relations office.

Bragan asked the track star to attend spring training to teach the Indians how to run properly.

"The Olympic coach in Cuba, Raudo Ruiz, has been working with some of the ballplayers down there," Bragan said, "and the results have been very good."

"Of course it takes months of practice, but I think that if Harrison would begin working with some of the players at spring training you would see a great improvement."

Dillard has said frequently that baseball players do not run properly. He mentioned outfielder Larry Doby, a former Indian now with Baltimore.

"He runs like a football player.
Feet wide apart."

"A lot of other ballplayers run the same way. No one ever taught them any different."

Jesse Lasky Labeled Part Of Hollywood Triumvirate

Editor's Note: Following is the second in a series of articles about the late Jesse Lasky, movie pioneer.

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jesse Lasky was the first of a famous triumvirate to be erased from the Hollywood scene.

In January, 1914, Lasky joined with Samuel Goldwyn and Cecil E. DeMille to form the Jesse Lasky Feature Play Co. with himself as president. DeMille was sent westward from New York to find some sunshine in which to make "The Squaw Man. He landed in Hollywood.

Goldwyn, 75, and DeMille, 76, are still titans in the industry. Both are multimillionaires. Lasky, who died last week at 77, made and lost 12 millions. But it's doubtful if his former partners had as much fun as he did.

Lasky was responsible for getting both of the film greats into the movie business. Having graduated from a cornet act in vaudeville, he aimed to produce plays. He discussed with a play broker, Mrs. H. C. DeMille, the possibility of her son William writing an opera for him. William was busy and successful, so Mrs. DeMille sold him on her other son Cecil.

Lasky outlined his proposed plot and DeMille's imagination caught fire. Together they created the opera "California," which was a hit.

Lasky's sister Blanche, with whom he trouped in vaudeville, was being courted by a glove cutter named Sam Goldfish. He wanted to get into the infant movie industry.

DeMille wanted to quit Broadway and head for the revolution in Mexico.

Lasky didn't want to lose him, so he said: "If you want adventure, I've got an even better idea—let's make some movies."

The pair took in Goldfish and started their company with $20,000.

Goldwyn, who underwent a name change and married Lasky's sister (they were later divorced), left the company when it merged with Adolph Zukor's Famous Players.

DeMille followed an independent course, though he stayed with Famous Players-Lasky, and made films such as the first "Ten Commandments." But the eastern moguls balked at DeMille's lavishness and forced him out of the company in 1924. Lasky hung on as studio head until 1932. Then the remaining member of the original triumvirate was eased out. (Tomorrow: Lasky the Rentless Campaigner)

Retired Ambassador's Wife Noted as Leading Hostess

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Munthe de Morgenstjerne, wife of the recently retired Norwegian ambassador, is one of the capital's most accomplished hostesses.

During her 23 years as chateleine of the big stone embassy on Massachusetts Avenue she served only elegant dinner parties. These were prepared and served by Norwegian servants.

A favorite menu began with consommé, followed by a cold salmon with mayonnaise, fish balls or lobster in white sauce laced with sherry and baked in small pastry shells called florentines. The fish course was followed with breast of chicken cooked in a heavy iron kettle on top of the stove and served with small browned potatoes, peas and brussels sprouts. Then came a tossed green salad and a dessert, usually Norwegian pudding, which she says somewhat resembles our "baked Alaska."

Paul Gruda Koht, 44, the new Norwegian ambassador, expected to arrive in February, is described as "tall, dark and handsome." His wife is also tall and very blonde. They have three children. He is the son of Halvean Koht, noted historian and foreign minister of Norway at the beginning of World War II.

Koht served as his country's consul in New York during the war. He was with NATO in Paris, a director in the foreign office in Oslo, and prior to his assignment here was Norwegian charge d'affaires in Copenhagen, Denmark.

Admiral Jerauld Wright, NATO's supreme Allied commander, Atlantic, has his own labels for liquor bottles. Of slick black paper they bear the following legend in gold lettering:

"Dr. Wright's Universal Elixir guaranteed to restore the vigor, aid digestion, clear the skin, limber the joints, improve the vision, settle the stomach, cleanse the scalp, built new muscles, protect delicate tissues, stop falling hair, polish the dentures, relieve athlete's foot, bolster falling arches, restore tired blood, etc."

Specialists Address Meeting

Cattle Feeders Invited To Hold Roundup Here

The annual meeting of the Fayette County Commercial Cattle Feeders Assn. brought together 83 cattle feeders Monday evening in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. This was twice as many as usually attended these meetings, and the meeting had been moved to the larger hall because of the increased advance registrations.

Eddie McCoy presided over the meeting following the dinner.

Barton Montgomery gave the secretary-treasurer's report and Ray Creachbaum, a director of the Ohio Cattle Feeders Assn., reviewed some of the association's program last year and outlined some of the plans laid out for the coming year.

Creachbaum also gave a detailed report of the coming annual meeting of the state association, which will be held Jan. 29-30 at the Southern Hotel in Columbus. The first day will be given over to a meeting of the officers and directors but the second day will be for all members of the association.

Some of the high points of the Thursday meeting in Columbus will be: "The Retailer Looks at Future Beef Merchandising and Sales" by Mr. W. E. Fitzgibbon, Meat Merchandiser, The Kroger Co., Cincinnati; "A Progress Report on Beef Promotion Legislation" by Rep. William R. Poage, Waco, Texas, a member of the House agricultural committee, and "The Net Value of High Moisture Corn in Cattle Feeding" by Prof. C. C. Culbertson, of the Department of Animal Husbandry, Iowa State College.

The annual banquet of the association will be Thursday evening with Dr. George R. Johnson, Department of Animal Science, Ohio State University, acting as toastmaster.

Indications are that there will be enough memberships in the state association to give the Fayette County association two directors.

RAY WHETSTONE of near Lima gave a report on "Feeding High Moisture Corn" at the meeting here. Whetstone operates a large farm in Allen County and feeds out about 175 heifer calves annually.

This is his second year he has put ear corn in his silo to feed his cattle, he said and pointed out that the corn should have about 28 percent moisture when it goes in to keep best. His experience had indicated that some dry corn or hay should be fed along with ear corn silage, he said.

He listed the advantages and disadvantages of using ear corn silage and then gave figures on the cost of getting it in the silo. He showed some charts on the amount of water, protein and total digestible nutrients in different silages, including corn silage, grass, corn stalks, well dried hay, first cutting alfalfa and ear corn silage. The ear corn silage runs about 35 per cent water, 7 per cent protein and 65 per cent carbohydrates, he said.

Whetstone recommended that farmers produce as much of their feed at home as possible and pointed out that hay can vary as much as 15 per cent in the amount of protein it contains, depending upon when it is harvested.

JAMES WARNER, beef cattle specialist, Ohio State University, reported on some of the new and different things taking place in the cattle feeding industry. He mentioned particularly that the cattle feeding business is moving west and said he just recently had attended the annual meeting of the American National Cattlemen's Assn. at Oklahoma City.

He stressed the importance of pelleted feeds and grain sorghums being used in increasing amounts in cattle feeding.

In relation to production testing, which is underway in the state, he pointed out that it did not mean throwing away what is called conformation in the beef animal. The optimum in production testing is to get both conformation and high gaining ability.

Robert Haigler, president of the Ohio Cattle Feeders Assn., reported on his meeting of cattlemen in Chicago last week.

The group voted to extend an invitation to the officers and directors of the Ohio Cattle Feeders Assn., to hold their summer barbecue and roundup in Fayette County. This, presumably, would be held on the Fairground.

THE NOMINATING committee of Alfred Hagler, Bill Mace and Ray Creachbaum, reported the following slate of officers for the year: Jesse Schlichter, president; Richard Craig, vice president; Barton Montgomery, secretary-treasurer and Ray Creachbaum, state director. These were unanimously elected.

It was agreed that the president should represent the association on the county Extension Advisory Council.

Retiring chairman Eddie McCoy appointed the following cattle feeders tour committee: the 1958 officers, Ted Vincent, Bill Mace and County Agent W. W. Montgomery. The date for the tour is March 22.

W. W. Montgomery, county agent reported on the new project of weighing and tattooing all the 4-H steer calves. Enrollment in this 4-H project is a little larger than last year, he said.

Among those from out of the county, in addition to the two speakers, were A. W. Marison, public relations director, Producers Livestock Assn., Columbus, Hewitt Cromley, Ashville, chairman of the Performance Testing Committee, Ohio Cattle Feeders Assn., and Richard Schaffer, associate county agent, Allen County.

Kids Put on Show At New Holland For Polio Fund

NEW HOLLAND — For more than a week, there had been feverish activities in the "club room" Roger Kirk and some other youngsters had rigged up in the garage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kirk.

Adults watched with interest, but refrained from interfering—or even asking too many questions—for they knew that, eventually, it would all come out in the open.

And, sure enough, it did—last Saturday—when they opened the "Popeye Theater."

But, it was more than a show that four youngsters put on; it was the tangible evidence that they are a part of the community and all of its activities. This time it was participation in the March of Dimes.

An admission of 3 cents was charged for the Popeye Theater performance. An audience of 25 to 30 youngsters came and paid. Some adults made contributions to encourage the youthful promoters. The theater "management" also went out and bought some candy, which was then sold at a profit.

When it was all added up, there was $5.16 for the March of Dimes. Adults said the spirit could not be valued in dollars and cents.

The Popeye Theater management and cast of players was Roger Kirk, Terry Cross, Sue Rodgers and Sherry Thacker. They are fourth graders.
